Multidisciplinary Theatre Professional

ABOUT MY ARTISTRY

Clove is a queer and disabled Generative and Multidisciplinary Theatre Artist with a passion in Stage Direction, Playwriting, and Intimacy Direction. They are based in Denver, CO and believe in theatre's innate and immense power to change minds, lives, and worlds. Their focus lies on the importance of the progressive steps we must take today to keep theatre alive and well for years and generations to come. They hope to do this through writing and directing generatively, in addition to educating and mentoring younger generations, helping others find their way to the theatrical arts.
